My dearest Sweetheart —

It has been over a week since I have heard any word from you and I am growing more anxious by the minute, to know if you are out of the hospital. I hope so!! Please let me know how you are feeling in general (all details)

Things have been terribly busy at the hospital since I returned. When I get home at night the muscles in my back and leg positively ache — but it seems to be nothing a good night's sleep doesn't cure.

There isn't much news to write you except what I read in the newspapers. China is still struggling and England has recognized the Red State of China just to protect a few dollars. Truman continues to act like a "phule" and Congress listens with half an ear. Oh well, as I have always said - You should be President.

I keep reading your last letter over n over and each time I get a different feeling - All wonderful tho -
If you don't write soon I'll understand in its O.K.

Must go -
Sincerely

Dorinda

P.S. Did you get the letter
I wrote to B'ham Jan 15th?
